Destroy Sensitive Data on Stolen Laptops

Beachhead Solutions' Lost Data Destruction

Computer theft is more than just stolen hardware—it's a security risk for companies and their clients and often results in data compromise or misuse. Unwilling to accept that risk, Ned Rendell and Chris Powers of the CPA firm Mohler, Nixon & Williams purchased and installed Beachhead Solutions' Lost Data Destruction (LDD). Soon afterward, a company laptop was stolen from a locked car trunk. After the theft, LDD sent Rendell and Powers a receipt that detailed the destruction of the stolen laptop's data and provided the thief's unique IP address.

"LDD gives our clients comfort that data won't be compromised."

—Chris Powers, Campbell, California

"Since purchasing LDD," says Rendell, "we no longer have to worry about data compromise or misuse. Not only does the product automatically encrypt sensitive data, but it eliminates data, too. LDD is a highly customizable security solution. For example, we can
